Project 3: DELIVER

In Project 3, teams produce Deliverables as determined with the partner, a section of the class Project Site that contains your final report and documentation of your work (images, diagrams, exercises, videos), and a Final Presentation of 10 minutes, introduced by your partner .

Partner Deliverables: Teams will continue working closely with partners to produce as professional deliverables as possibly, even if still in prototype form. Ideally, partners should help produce deliverable. The guilds will focus on honing the online portfolio of work to share with others, now and in the future.

Report on Project Website team page: Teams will use their project site to share final reports. Your final report itself should illustrated, roughlty 10-page (2,500 word) and

> 1) describes and reflects on our community work thus far,
> 2) demonstrates knowledge and know-how of design frames, and
> 3) outlines next steps.

Our section on the class project site uses WordPress and the theme Cornell Institute for Healthy Futures. Teams are responsible for the design and content of their site section and can customize their section within limits determined by guilds. The site sections are effectively built: teams/guilds need to generate and/or curate content.

Presentation: Teams will co-present with partners: partners will give 5-7 intros describing their goals and work with you, followed by your teams' 10-minute final presentation. Both presentation and report and draw on your earlier work:

Both presentation and report must be illustrated, well-designed, and conceptually rich with ideas and practices explicitly drawn from your use of design thinking and transmedia knowledge practiced with parnters
